You are invited to join the Water Leadership Institute!

Take the lead in strengthening your water system's finances. The Water Leadership Institute will help you build the skills, knowledge and community connections to manage water system budgets with confidence. This unique leadership training is recommended for water system board members and bookkeepers. Utility partners are welcome and encouraged to attend, such as accountants, local and state funders, Councils of Governments and others.

Participants will:

- To increase regulatory compliance of community water systems
- Financial planning and implementation practices for utilities and staff
- To measure the financial capacity of their systems in all aspects
- To apply routine asset management practices into regular management and operations of systems
- To practice constructing and presenting fair and adequate rate structures for boards and communities

The priority is for systems with 500 connections or less and/or struggling with financial management. Stipends are available for participants who complete 75% or more of the training sessions.
