

15 Steps to Homeownership

A two-webinar series • June 11 & 13, 2019

Do you want to sharpen your skills to help clients navigate their way to homeownership? This series of two webinars will examine industry protocols and consumer best practices for the most critical 15 steps to homeownership that consumers need to be competent at, and confident with, when purchasing their new home.

The first session in this two-webinar series will explore early pre-purchase activities from choosing a lender, to selecting a realtor, to making offers on properties. The second session will examine the contract process, home inspections, home appraisals, and preparing for the final document signing and closing date. Each session will help counselors guide clients on what to expect on their road to homeownership. Upon completing both webinars, participants will be able to better coach consumers through the home buying process, providing them with tools to make informed choices at each decision point along the way.
