About the workshop

This workshop will provide public water system operators with training on the various types of math problems that are encountered in everyday treatment and distribution systems. The principles of disinfection, chlorine residual and dosing math will also be covered. The training will be geared toward practical working examples and math problems that are found on the operator certification exam. Operators will increase their knowledge base and enhance their ability to keep their distribution systems in compliance.

This workshop qualifies for 6.0 PDH's in water treatment and distribution.
